Blaine Administration Gets Complete Control Of Both Houses At Madison—Socialists Lose Two Representatives

Madison—A clear working majority in the state senate and an almost solid assembly vote will rest with the LaFollette progressive Republicans when the Wisconsin legislature convenes Jan. 10 to carry into effect campaign pledges made by Governor J. J. Blaine and his followers.

Complete results of the battle waged in senatorial districts for control of the upper house of the legislature announced Thursday by the Republican headquarters show that 17 senators will be definitely aligned with the administration while two others are on the fence, confidently predicting to be about to fall into the progressive camp. In addition three Socialist senators will be in line to back up the governor on most of his moves.

This victory for the LaFollette forces gives them a probable vote of 22 in the upper house to 11 for the opposition. Their assembly voting strength will be approximately 88 to 12 for the opposition.

WETS TO CONTROL

From the face of endorsements by the Wisconsin Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and the Wisconsin Anti Saloon league, it also looked Tuesday as though both houses of the legislature would be controlled by the wets. Many of the senators are known to be only mildly "damp" and it is not expected that they would favor radical changes in the state enforcement law. Following are the results of the senatorial contests.

Third district, Walter Polakowski, Socialist, defeated T. J. Pruss, La Follette Republican.

Fifth district, Bernard Gettleman, La Follette Republican, defeated Schmed Socialist.

Seventh district, Quick, Socialist, defeated J. S. Kane, La Follette Republican.

Ninth district, B. H. Mahon, La Follette Republican, defeated Baxter, Socialist Killa, Democrat and Higgins, Independent.

Eleventh district, Herman Bligien, La Follette Republican, defeated L. S. Keeley, Democrat.

Nineteenth district, Merritt F. White, Anti-La Follette Republican, defeated J. H. Dennhardt, Independent La Follette Republican.

BARBER ELECTED

Twenty-fifth district, Joseph Barber, La Follette Republican, defeated Ralph E. Smith, anti La Follette Independent and J. P. Plovman, Independent Democrat.

Third district, John C. Schumann, La Follette Republican, defeated Charles Mulberger, Independent Democrat.

The general election removed all Democrats from the upper house of the legislature and cut the Socialist representation from five to three, one of them a holdover.

With control of the legislature in their hands, the administration men will organize both houses according to their wishes, and will then proceed to enact a program of legislation which the leaders say will result in radical changes in the state taxing laws, and in law urged by farmers and labor.

A wet and dry fight of vital importance to prohibition enforcement in the state is looming as a result of the election. Even the dry leaders say that it looks as though a referendum on beer and wine would be called for by the legislature for the spring election of 1923.

DOES AWAY WITH CEREMONY

Madison—Governor Blaine announced that there would be no formal ceremonies on Jan. 3, when the new state officers take the oath of office. This is in line with precedent which has established the formal exercises be done away with when a governor succeeds himself.

POPE TO GIVE RED HATS TO AMERICANS

By Associated Press
Rome—Pope Pius has decided to postpone the appointment of the new American cardinal to a consistory to be held next year, it was learned Thursday. The report that both Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago and Archbishop Hayes of New York would at that time receive the red hat, however, was confirmed in an authoritative quarter.

Meanwhile notice has been sent to Monsignor Giovanni Bonzano, apostolic delegate at Washington, with regard to his being raised to purple in the consistory to be held Dec. 11. It is expected this notice will reach Monsignor Bonzano next week and that he will shortly afterward leave for Rome.

'BOB' SENT TO CONGRESS BY BIG MAJORITY

Berger Feels Confident He'll Be Allowed Seat—Tax Law Beaten

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—With more than three-fourths of the precincts from Wisconsin reported from Tuesday's election, the available figures indicate that final returns will show United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette to have a majority of approximately 250,000 over his opponents, Jesse Jack Hooper, independent Democrat, and Adolph R. Bucknam, the prohibition candidate. Senator LaFollette's vote in 1,721 out of 2,533 was 287,822; Hooper 58,526 and Bucknam 1,076.

Governor John J. Blaine leads the rest of the progressive Republican ticket and was re-elected by a vote very similar to that of Senator LaFollette. The Blaine figures from 1,692 precincts were 267,575; Bentley, independent Democrat 38,556 and Arnold Socialist 35,804.

ASSOCIATES GET BIG VOTE

Governor Blaine's associates on his ticket, had overwhelming pluralities on ratio close to the vote of the head of the ticket.

Scattering returns from the vote on the proposed constitutional amendments indicate the defeat of the one which would permit cities to increase their indebtedness; also proposition for sheriffs to succeed themselves in office. The proposed measure which would permit five states of a jury sitting in civil cases to render a verdict appears to have been ratified.

'VIC' FEELS CONFIDENT

Victor L. Berger, elected to congress from the Fifth Wisconsin district as a Socialist candidate, feels confident he will be seated when he goes to Washington. Mr. Berger, twice elected previously, had been refused his seat. He feels that there is no war case against him since the Supreme court ruled in his favor on an affidavit of prejudice against Judge Landis, in whose court he was convicted of violating the espionage law and that his eligibility or qualifications will not be questioned by members of the house.

Wisconsin's congressional delegation will comprise 10 Republicans and one Socialist, a loss of one Republican from the present status.

DEMOCRATS TAKE MICHIGAN STATE

Ferris, Twice Governor, Beats
Newberry—G. O. P. Loses
County Offices

By Associated Press
Detroit—The Democratic success in Michigan in Tuesday's election appeared even more pronounced Thursday when belated returns showed that in addition to electing a senator, a member of the house of representatives and five members of the legislature the party had gained ground in numerous counties of the state. In several instances the majority of the county officers went to Democrats for the first time in history.

The big fight, however, was centered in the senatorial contest and the victory by 15,000 votes of Woodbridge N. Ferris, former governor, over Senator Charles E. Townsend was looked upon by Democratic leaders as the outstanding result.

Throughout the campaign Mr. Ferris brought the Newberry matter to the fore, saying it was the "big issue in Michigan" and that his election Michigan voters could "purge themselves of Newberryism."

Whether the senator-elect planned to raise the issue in Washington was not definitely known Thursday.

SEAMEN TO CARRY ON STRIKE IN SPRING

By Associated Press
Chicago—The seamen's strike on the Great Lakes which began Oct. 1, will be carried on with renewed vigor next spring, according to an announcement by K. B. Nolan, secretary of the Seamen's union. The strike is for an 8 hour day.

For senator, 1,344 precincts gave Frazier, Republican 68,337; O'Connor, Democrat 76,080. Outcome of the congressional races in the Second and Third districts was in doubt Thursday. In the Third, Representative J. H. Sinclair, with less than one-half of the district reported, had about 600 lead. In the second a few precincts had Representative G. M. Young leading by 900 votes.

ENGLISH SEE BIG CHANGE IN VOTE

American Election Draws More
Comment Than Usual—
Praise And Blame Harding

By Associated Press
London—The comeback made by the Democrats in the American election Tuesday is explained to British readers by their newspapers in many ways and the speculation which the editorial writers indulge in is quite diversified.

Throughout England the American elections have attracted more editorial comment than is often the case.

PRaises HARDING RULE

The Times pays a tribute to the Harding administration as one which has achieved successes of which America may well be proud. "That newspapers think that the violence with which the pendulum swung back may derange the Republican party machine and other mechanisms in ways wholly undesirable and unforeseen."

The Chronicle regards the Democratic victories as quite enormous and significant and ascribes the change as partly the result of the natural swing of the pendulum, partly to the excessive application of prohibition and partly to the dissatisfaction with the supremacy of big business interests and the tariff.

The Westminster Gazette derives from the election the hope that the Americans are nearing somewhat toward cooperation with the League of Nations, and expresses surprise that women candidates were so unsuccessful.

"DISGUST OF PEOPLE"

The Daily News says the turnover was due mostly perhaps to the general disgust of the electorate with the failure of the Harding administration to do anything at all. It will make the already hard task of that administration still harder.

TO GET NEW LEADERS

It looks today as if the Democratic party would provide itself with new leaders both inside and outside of congress. Senator Oscar Underwood has announced that his health will not permit him to accept the leadership of his party in the senate. Mr. Hitchcock of Nebraska who was runner up in the fight for Democratic leadership in the senate has been defeated for reelection. Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, an aggressive type of political leader, is likely to be chosen. Cordell Hull, Democratic national chairman has been elected to the house from Tennessee. If he retains the chairmanship it will be the first time in recent history that a national party organization will have been directed from the halls of congress.

Examining the results of the different elections it is apparent that Al Smith ran true to form in New York State. He did cut down Governor Miller's majority upstate as predicted and had to his advantage an immense majority in New York City. Personal popularity had more to do with the result than any other factor.

WHAT WILL 1924 BE?

The general drift toward the opposite party in the populous eastern states can of course be attributed to the dissatisfaction with the party in power but a combination of local circumstances is to be found in nearly every case which, it can be contended, with equal force, may have given the necessary thousands of votes to change the result. As for the gains in the house, it will be conceded that the Democratic landslide for governor in New York state pulled through the Democratic candidates for house of representative. But whatever it was, whatever the explanation, the Republicans have spent an uncomfortable and nervous two or three hours, and they will continue to be on the anxious seat from now until 1924 when the next election tells the real story of national feeling toward the administration.

O'CONNOR LEADS; N. P. CLAIMS WIN

By Associated Press
Fargo, N. D.—With the election of L. T. Frazier, recalled Nonpartisan league governor of North Dakota to the United States senate, claimed by the Courier News, J. F. T. O'Connor, Democrat, his opponent, had a lead of about 7,000 votes when tabulation of returns was resumed Thursday.

Governor R. A. Nestor, Republican, whose reelection has been conceded by the league, had a safe lead. Latest figures from 1,328 precincts out of 2,138 in the state gave him 88,096 votes to 82,034 for William Lemke, Independent.

For senator, 1,344 precincts gave Frazier, Republican 68,337; O'Connor, Democrat 76,080. Outcome of the congressional races in the Second and Third districts was in doubt Thursday. In the Third, Representative J. H. Sinclair, with less than one-half of the district reported, had about 600 lead. In the second a few precincts had Representative G. M. Young leading by 900 votes.

Four-Fold Menace Confronts U. S. Farmer, Educators Are Told

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—A four-fold menace confronts American agriculture at the present time, threatening the farmer with continued economic depression, K. L. Hatch of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture, declared before the Wisconsin Teacher's association meeting here Thursday.

Professor Hatch said that agriculture in this country is "up against it," because of what he describes as the Russian menace, the Argentine menace, the tropical menace and the menace of impending pestilence.

"The world needs Russia, and Russia needs the rest of the world," the speaker declared. "The only relief in sight for stricken Europe is Russia, and hence it must be brought back. The return of Russia to world competition in food and fibre products is the first menace to the American farmer."

"Argentine, with its production of cattle," Professor Hatch said, "is menacing America's market for its meat, setting up a destructive competition which American farmers must meet."

"The menace of the tropics, comes from the fact that the farmer cannot compete with his costly milk producing cattle against products from the southern countries, which are replacing butter fat as a food," the professor said.

He declared the increasing tenancy on American farms is the greatest menace transcending all others.

"When one notes the increasing tenancy all over the United States, and the ever increasing disparity between city and country living conditions, we can but feel that we are soon to have a peasantized agriculture," Professor Hatch said.

The one salvation, he asserted, lies in greater intelligence in improving agriculture.

SCHNEIDER'S LEAD IS 12,228 VOTES

Precincts In Four Counties
Missing—Get Vote Here
Saturday

George J. Schneider, Republican leads Judge Henry Graess, Independent, Republican candidate for congress from the Ninth Wisconsin district by 12,228 votes and with 25 precincts missing, divided among Forest, Marinette, Oconto and Outagamie counties. Schneider's lead increases as new returns are reported. The vote as far as heard from: Schneider 32,348; Graess 20,120.

Complete returns from Outagamie county will not be available until the votes here are canvassed. Many of precinct clerks in rural districts failed to keep a record of the vote and as a result the returns from several towns cannot be obtained until the sealed parcels, containing the ballots and tally sheets, are opened at the courthouse. It is probable the vote will be canvassed on Saturday.

60 MORE WETS GET SEATS IN CONGRESS

Volstead's Place On Committee Will Go To Man With Wet Leanings

(In the four states in which prohibition was a direct issue before the voters, three Illinois, Massachusetts and California, went "wet," while the fourth, Ohio, defeated a proposed wine and beer amendment by a majority estimated at 100,000.)

Washington, D. C.—Representative A. J. Volstead, author of the Volstead prohibition act and the apostle of rigid national prohibition, went down to defeat in Tuesday's election and will be replaced by Representative George S. Graham of Pennsylvania, as the chairman of the house judiciary committee, provided the Republicans maintain control of the next house.

Not only was Mr. Volstead defeated but many other dry advocates were eliminated. Incomplete returns show a gain estimated at sixty for the wet side, although Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, insists that there has been very little change in the wet and dry sentiment.

GRAHAM HELD LIBERAL

The outstanding fact is that Mr. Graham, who may become chairman of the judiciary committee, is a man regarded as in favor of a liberalization of the prohibition law to destroy the wholesale bootlegging and give the people beer containing a percentage of alcohol which will not be intoxicating or injurious.

HAD STILL IN HOME; GOES TO WORKHOUSE

Federal Officer Conducts Raid
On Frank Wallerstein's
Home, Kaukauna

A raid on the property of Frank Wallerstein of Kaukauna by Thomas Martin, federal prohibition enforcement agent, and Chief Richard H. McCarthy of the Kaukauna police force Wednesday noon, disclosed a quantity of mash, a 15-gallon still and a jug containing 1 1/2 gallons of moonshine whiskey.

Wallerstein was arraigned in court Wednesday afternoon and being found guilty of violation of the prohibition laws, was sentenced by Judge A. M. Spencer to 30 days in the county workhouse.

The still was found in Wallerstein's basement. The convicted man is said to have made the statement that although the still was on his property, another man managed the operation of it.

MINNESOTA ELECTS FARMER-LABORITE

St. Paul—Only one congressional seat in Minnesota was undecided Thursday. That in the eighth district where Oscar J. Larson, Republican was leading William L. Carr with slightly more than half the district heard from. Returns from 211 precincts out of 409 gave Larson 22,995 and Carr 20,260.

Defeat of two of Minnesota's congressmen was reported Wednesday night. A. J. Volstead in the Seventh and Halvor Steenerson in the ninth. The former was beaten by the Rev. O. J. Kvale, Independent, and the latter by Knud Wefald, Farmer-Laborite.

For United States Senator Dr. Henrik Shipstead, the first Farmer-Labor candidate to be elected to the upper house, was more than 53,000 votes ahead of Senator Frank B. Kellogg, Republican incumbent. With more than two-thirds of the state heard from Shipstead had 331,473 votes; Kellogg 177,892 and Mrs. Anna D. Olson, Democrat 58,639.

Governor J. A. O. Freus, Republican held a lead of more than 14,000 votes over Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Laborite with two-thirds of the state in.

CALLS VOTE REVOLT

Chicago—Characterizing the result of Tuesday's election as a "revolt against landed aristocracy," Benjamin C. Marsh of Washington, D. C., managing director of the Farmers' National council, declared here that "farmers are joining with labor to restore the government to the people and will not stop until they have done this."

CONGRESS GETS 11 DAMP MEN; LOSES 9 OTHERS

Beer And Wine Proposition Wins
By Two To One Vote
In Illinois

By Associated Press
Chicago—Eleven avowedly wet candidates for congress were elected and nine self announced wet aspirants for congressional seats were defeated in middle western states elections Tuesday, analysis of the returns showed Thursday.

The majority of midwestern congressional candidates either announced themselves before election as dry or maintained silence or said that they did not regard prohibition as an issue. There were no prohibition contests announced by congressional candidates in these midwestern states.

Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, No. Dakota, Oklahoma and South Dakota and in some of them, as Kansas, Minnesota and Oklahoma, the congressional candidates all were reported as prohibitionists. In Indiana and Iowa, the few avowed wet candidates were defeated.

NINE WETS REPUBLICANS

Of the eleven successful wets, nine were Republicans, one Democrat and one Socialist. Five Democrats on Republican one Socialist and two Independents, one of whom ran on a "beer and light wines" platform were the announced wets who lost. Several of these wets lost to other wets.

Ohio defeated the beer and wine proposition by a majority of close to 100,000. The beer and wine proposition in Illinois won by more than 2 to 1 with dry leaders advising their followers not to vote. California defeated a prohibition enforcement act. Massachusetts voted against harmonizing the state laws with the Volstead federal enforcement act. New Jersey swept into the senate Governor Edward I. Edwards, Democrat and prophet of modification of prohibition; Missouri reelected Senator James M. Reed, Democrat, avowed opponent of the Volstead act and New York Democrats had a beer and light wine platform.

DRY BEATS VOLSTEAD

Although representative Volstead of Minnesota, author of the Volstead enforcement laws, was defeated, the Rev. O. J. Kvale, has proclaimed himself drier than Volstead.

In Nebraska, the only avowedly wet candidate, John Smith, running on a beer and light wine designation, in the Sixth district, was defeated, in the first Nebraska district J. M. Morehead, Democrat, announced as "unsatisfactory" by the state Anti Saloon league, defeated Mrs. E. Lucia Barton, Prohibitionist and W. L. Anderson, Republican endorsed by the league.

In Iowa, Fred Hagerman, Democrat, Third district, the only avowed wet candidate, was defeated. Congressman Harry E. Hull, Second Iowa district, who did not run on the wet platform but who was opposed by the anti prohibition platform was reelected.

In Michigan, Robert M. Clancy, Democrat, First district and Clarence J. McLeod, Republican Thirteenth district, both endorsed by wet organizations were elected.

SENATOR KING WINS IN UTAH

Remaining Undecided Districts
Not To Effect General
Situation

By Associated Press
New York—Continued Republican control of congress but with a senate majority cut in two and a house majority of 159 slashed to a scant handful, appeared Thursday as the net result of last Tuesday's congressional elections with returns almost complete.

Tight races in the few undecided districts, not affecting the general result and delays in counting, however, threatened to postpone the final fight until Friday. The general picture of Tuesday's storm of ballots was virtually finished early Thursday morning when Senator C. Wayne returns sent the Republicans over the top in the house contest. Election of R. Scott Leavitt, Republican in Montana, gave the Republicans the 218 votes necessary to control the next house but even these Republican findings were coupled with news of defeat of Representative McCormick, republican by his Democratic opponent, John M. Evans.

SENATOR KING WINS

Belated returns did not add to the 50 per cent cut in the senate Republican majority sustained in the earlier tallies. They brought word however, of the reelection of Senator King, Democrat of Utah, over Erns-Bamberger, Republican; of Senator Jones, Democrat of New Mexico and of another Democratic victory in Montana where Senator C. Wayne returns sent the Republicans over the top in the house contest. Election of R. Scott Leavitt, Republican in Montana, gave the Republicans the 218 votes necessary to control the next house but even these Republican findings were coupled with news of defeat of Representative McCormick, republican by his Democratic opponent, John M. Evans.

Only two senatorial contests remained greatly in doubt, those in Washington, where former Representative, Dill, Democrat, was leading Senator Pinckney, Republican and in North Dakota where the Democratic candidate J. F. T. O'Connor, was with a waning majority as more returns came in, leading former Governor L. J. Frazier, Republican. Nonpartisan league leaders were claiming Frazier's ultimate election.

With seven congressional districts in four states—Kansas, North Dakota, Washington and West Virginia—still unreported at 7 o'clock Thursday the roll in the next house stood: Republican 220; Democrats 205; Socialists 1, Farmer-Laborite 1 and Independent 1. The Republican margin promised to be increased slightly in the remaining contests. In the returns to date 76 places now held by Republicans have been captured without a single counter balancing Democratic loss.

FARMER-LABORITE ON TOP

Late returns also brought news of the defeat of another Republican veteran of the house representative, Halvor Steenerson of Minnesota, chairman of the postoffice committee, by a farmer-laborite, Knud Wefald. This gave the Farmer-Labor party representation in both branches of congress for the first time, Dr. Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite, having defeated Senator Kellogg in Minnesota.

500 FACE U. S. COURTS ON POSTAL LAW CHARGES

Washington—Approximately 500 cases involving fraudulent use of the mails are in the hands of United States attorneys for investigation to determine whether criminal proceedings should be instituted, it was announced Thursday at the department of justice. Plans are under way in the department for expediting the trial of each case which it is decided to prosecute. Officials estimated that cases already under consideration represented a loss to the American public through postal swindles of more than $140,000,000.

If I could make paper flowers

Paper flowers are often deceiving. I have seen some made so well that they look real. However, it takes a mighty clever hand to make them so.

Look around the next time you tour the department stores and you will find how many paper flowers are used for decoration. In a minute you can mention a dozen uses for paper flowers—decorations for parties, settings for plays, etc.

It seems to me there is market for paper flowers. I know that if I could make them, I'd run a want ad in The Post-Crescent and tell 40,000 people what I intended to do—make paper flowers—telephone your ad to 543. Post-Crescent Want Ads bring results.

Disabled war veterans still are to have the assistance of the Wisconsin department of the American Legion in executing their claims for compensation, treatment and vocational training through an increase in appropriation for this work, according to a communication received from Austin A. Peterson, state adjutant, by James H. Balliet, adjutant of Onyx Johnston post of the American Legion.

The service office in Milwaukee is to be maintained and will increase its scope. State dues of each member of the legion were increased to $1 at the recent state convention in Beloit to care for this work. This amount is included in the local fee paid by each member.

ASK HOLIDAY
Armistice day as a legal holiday for the state of Wisconsin will be proposed to the next legislature by the legion. The aim is to have it a day of celebration with programs similar to those on Independence day.

Preliminary announcement is made by Mr. Peterson of the annual department conference of post commanders and adjutants, and wives of the state are invited to bid for the state at the conference. The conference was held in Appleton last winter, with several hundred men attending.

Veteran, Money Gone And Ill, Returning To Europe

America with her wonderful possibilities and her rich resources welcomed many a foreigner to her shores before the war with promises of a living and a future. Then came the war and with the same faith in their adopted country still in the hearts of the new citizens many answered the country's call for men. But times have changed and living is higher than it was for some years before the war, so now it is necessary for some of America's heroes, crippled, broken in health and unable to work, to seek homes again in foreign lands because their scanty funds will no longer allow them to live in the "land of the free."

Such was the case of Frederick Middle of Kimberly who with his wife and small daughter left New York Saturday for Switzerland. Mr. Middle, whose people are Hollanders, was seriously wounded in the service, having his spine injured. He was treated by many surgeons and spent a great deal of time in hospitals but while his money was going he was not getting well. An operation was performed at which time a bone was removed from his thigh to repair the injured spine but still Mr. Middle was unable to work.

WANT PEOPLE TO KNOW OF CANCER

Campaign Next Week Is Aimed To Bring Hope And Avert Dreaded Disease

Cancer week, which is to be observed Nov. 12 to 19, is not intended to spread alarm about cancer but to bring hope, the state board of health has assured the public. The aim of cancer education is rather to warn the public of early cancerous conditions, for if treated in time, the board asserts, all danger of cancer is dispensed of. Cancer meetings are being planned all over the state. Deputy state health officers and other representatives of the board of health are scheduled to speak. County medical societies will assign speakers wherever desired. Public health nurses at the state conference of Social Work the League of Women Voters, the Women's Christian Temperance union, the clergy, fraternal and business men's organizations and other bodies have been invited to cooperate. Wisconsin's cancer problem is shown in the following figures: For the year 1919 there were 2,275 cancer deaths; 2,234 in 1920; 2,470 in 1921; 1,769 in the first 9 months of 1922. Deaths caused by tuberculosis were as follows: 2,191 in 1919; 2,217 in 1920; 1,963 in 1921; 1,435 in the first months of 1922. "Surgical experience has proven that cancer, in many cases, can be prevented," the state board declares. "It is also demonstrated that cancer does not begin as a cancer, that it is always something else—a lump, a wart, a mole, an ulcer, a bruise, a burn. This is in itself quite harmless. How such things turn into a cancer is not known." Cancer patients wait an average of a year before obtaining treatment. There is nothing to gain by putting off examination, it is said.

'Hopes' Of Grandmothers Found In Girls Of Today

Girls are just the same today as they were 50 years ago; they do the same things their grandmothers did and look forward to the same events as they won't admit it. The more change of styles and "complexions" does not make girls different from other generations. The age-old traits appear in modern girls as they did in those before them, usually with a look to the future. That is probably the reason hope chests are just as popular as they ever were. One young lady who admits adhering to this fanciful idea proved this when she said practically all her friends had one whether it was in the form of a cedar chest or a bureau drawer. This fact is especially interesting, for an old saying is, "a hope chest will never be used if started by its owner." Knowing this, it must be true that a number have "hopes."

ON THE SCREEN

Porter Emerson Browne Wrote New Barthelmess Play

An original story by Porter Emerson Browne, author of "The Bad Man," and other equally famous stage successes is the vehicle in which Richard Barthelmess will make his second appearance as a star through Associated First National Pictures. "The Seventh Day," is the name of the picture which will open at the Elite for a 2 day run commencing tomorrow.

The picture promises an entire different characterization from the barefoot Virginia mountain boy that marked the star's initial venture, "Tollable David." In "The Seventh Day" he appears as a youthful captain of a fishing craft in the quaint, antiquated New England village far removed from railroads and modern civilization. A yacht loaded with young society flippers on pleasure bent is temporarily stranded in the port and confusion results. The isolated town had never known such goings on and young John Alden, taken up by the party to furnish them innocent amusement, takes the game of flirtation to heart. Patricia Vane is attractive, witty and the last word in social deportment. The boy naturally imagines she is in love with him and she allows the deception to continue. The realization of this deception brings a climax to surpassing strength. Barthelmess endows the role of John Alden with all the simplicity and sincerity that has marked his former screen productions; and it is this note of genuineness that is the outstanding appeal of the story of simple people. The supporting cast includes Louise Huff as leading lady.

Are you proud of your teeth?

—the right dentifrice will quickly make them gleam white and bright

Listerine Tooth Paste, made by the Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, makers of Listerine, contains just the right cleansing agent. It is hard enough to remove daily formation of tartar, yet not hard enough to scratch or injure the enamel. You take no chances with it.

Avoid dentifrices that attack the enamel

Guard the precious enamel of your teeth. Don't scratch it with a paste containing harsh abrasives. This enamel can never be replaced.

Also avoid soaps and other alkalis

Dental authorities now agree that the ideal dentifrice should contain no soaps or other alkali ingredients. These work against Nature; they lessen the natural saliva flow and hasten tooth decay. Mild fruit acids, on the other hand, such as Listerine Tooth Paste contains, aid Nature in preserving the teeth.

Clean your teeth thoroughly and pleasantly

Notice how delightfully fresh and clean your mouth feels after you use Listerine Tooth Paste. It's natural that it should feel so. Listerine Tooth Paste is made to work that way—to clean your teeth thoroughly and pleasantly, and help you keep your teeth and gums in their natural healthy condition.

Listerine Tooth Paste works naturally

Notice how your mouth waters when you use it. That is because the fruit acid elements in Listerine Tooth Paste—grape, orange, apple and grapefruit—stimulate the flow of saliva. Saliva is good for the teeth and gums. That's one of the purposes for which saliva is provided. Again notice the clean feeling. Your teeth will feel clean after you use Listerine Tooth Paste thoroughly, because they are clean.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS—BEWARE! FIRST SNEEZE IS YOUR WARNING

If Taken In Hand At Once Cold Can Be Stopped In Thirty Minutes. Muco-Solvent Salve Is Best Remedy. Said To Relieve Worst Kind of a Cold In One Night—Safe and Simple to Use.

Dr. L. W. Griffin, Neenah, Wisconsin, practicing physician and throat specialist, during one epidemic of diphtheria, used one prescription with great success. His treatment dissolved and disintegrated the phlegm or mucus and assisted nature to carry the accumulated mass. The same prescription used for la grippe, tonsillitis, asthma, bronchitis, quinsy, whooping cough and kindred diseases, produced further marvelous results.

Dr. Griffin's prescription has become known among the druggists of the country as Muco-Solvent Liquid. It is sold to the extent of thousands of bottles each year and today, forty years after its first use, is considered a valuable ally in many homes.

If you have an affliction seemingly impossible of correction get a bottle of Muco-Solvent Liquid (75c and $1.50 at druggists) and take it according to directions. It is not an opiate and is absolutely safe for child or adult, being purely vegetable, composed of antiseptic so combined as to produce a specific for suppurative and inflammatory diseases of the mucous membrane.

Inhale the Vapors

For ordinary cold in head melt a little Muco Salve in a spoon or in tin cup and inhale the vapors, taking long, deep breaths. Relief is positively instantaneous for the nasal passages are immediately opened. Then insert salve in each nostril and breathe deeply to clear the upper respiratory tract.

Rub On Chest.

If the cold is of long standing, follow the above method and rub Muco Salve liberally on chest, afterward covering same with warm cloths to promote absorption. Thus the congestion is scattered and if the patient will take a good laxative, cold will be about gone by morning.

While the treatment is absurdly simple and is really based upon grandmother's old time poultices and plasters, the compounding of Muco-Solvent Salve is an operation requiring a knowledge of many scientific facts. The formula is the result of patient experiments and represents long laboratory research. This possibly accounts for the fact that similar preparations do not seem to be as effective.

No More Influenza.

It is now predicted that the general use of Muco Salve will have much to do with the prevention of influenza. Especially if used as a preventive after being in same room, lodge hall, church or other places where there are persons, young or old, with colds for colds are very contagious and are the forerunner of la grippe, influenza and pneumonia.

Only 25 Cents.

By reason of an enormous output, Muco-Solvent Salve is sold at the reasonable price of 25 cents for the home size jar. It is therefore within the reach of poor and rich alike. At all druggists everywhere, among them Union Pharmacy, R. C. Lowell, Schintz Bros., Downer's Pharmacy and also by Kaukauna Drug Co. at 80, Kaukauna; Edwin J. Gutter at Hortonville; H. M. Rouse at Dale, adv.

CHARTER 'RIPON SPECIAL'; H.S. AIMS TO BEAT OSHKOSH

LAWRENCE WIN SATURDAY MEANS STATE GRID FLAG

Hundreds of Students Expect To Accompany McChesney Machine

Several hundred students and Appletonians will join the invasion of Lawrence college into Ripon Saturday when Coach H. D. McChesney's machine will meet Guy Sundt's eleven on the gridiron in a game that will result in the elimination of one school from the race for the Little Five honors.

Thor Bruce, manager of the varsity team, announced on Thursday that a special train had been chartered to take Appleton fans to Ripon on Saturday. The "Ripon Special" will leave the Chicago and Northwestern station at 8 o'clock in the morning and will arrive in Ripon at 10:30. The journey home will begin at 7 o'clock in the evening and the "special" will arrive in Appleton two and one-half hours later. The "Ripon Special" will consist of six coaches and a baggage car. The round trip fare will be $2.75 for one and one-third the regular fare.

"YE ANCIENT RIVALS"
The rivalry which has marked games of both schools for years is expected to draw many Appletonians to Ripon. The special train is expected to carry a large number of the Ripon alumni residing in this vicinity. Ripon college is making the football game the feature attraction of its homecoming celebration.

Despite the reports that Lawrence should finish on top of the game, Coach McChesney and Assistant Coach "Cub" Buck are driving the Lawrence eleven through the hardest practice of the season. Every night thus far has been scrimmage night.

HAS HEAVY LINE
Special stress is being laid by Lawrence's line in its reported that Ripon's line is one of the heaviest that ever wore red jerseys. According to Lawrence scouts, Ripon will outweight the Paper City line ten pounds to a man.

Bucks, line plunges, the straight football, used by Appleton most of the time the last few years, is expected to win the game for Lawrence. Rublmann, Currie and others who took part in the Northwestern game last Saturday may start the game against Ripon, according to Coach McChesney.

Scrimmage work will be concluded Thursday night and the final finishing touches will be on program for Friday. The Lawrence line used their tricks against the high school team Wednesday night with much success. Coach Sundt, 1921 captain of the University of Wisconsin eleven, who is in charge of the Ripon gridgers, is ironing out the defects in the offensive work as demonstrated in the game with Carroll last Saturday when the Redmen took a doubtful victory from Carroll. Ripon won by a score of 12 to 7 while Appleton copped from the same school by a score of 13 to 0.

Despite the fact that Ripon has lost two of its games, it still has a chance to win the state title as Carroll was the only conference team to played thus far. In the first game this year, Ripon lost to Oshkosh by a score of 3 to 0. At Milwaukee the Redmen held the strong Marquette team to scoreless tie.

This was followed by a defeat in the hands of Lombard, 6 to 0. Two weeks ago the Riponers were held by Lake Forest 0 to 0.

"RIP UP RIPON"
"Eliminate Lawrence" is the homecoming slogan adopted by Ripon. Lawrence is expressing itself with "Rip Up Ripon". While Lawrence is usually considered Lawrence's hardest foe, Ripon holds the stage when it comes to student rivalry. Lawrence has a shade over Ripon in the last 11 years of playing, having won seven games while Ripon took four.

Scores of both schools since 1910 are as follows:

Year	Lawrence	Ripon
1910	8	11
1915	0	7
1916	0	13
1917	No Game
1919	7	21

BLUE AND ORANGE WILL TRY TO BREAK SAWDUST CITY JINX

Appleton Has Solitary Victory In Twenty-One Years—Won In 1903

"Sporting Editor—I had an argument with an old timer who asserts that Appleton hasn't won from Oshkosh since 1905. Has it been that long ago?"

"A. H. S. 1924." Seldom is there a football game-to-be complete unless the sports writers dig into the past of both schools. The gridiron history of Appleton high and Oshkosh, however seems to be the most interesting.

Each school has a jinx team, that is, no matter how well the eleven may be going when it comes to meeting this particular jinx school the grid usually finishes on the short end. Oshkosh is Appleton's jinx and in past years was an even harder foe than Marinette.

VICTORY IN 1903
In reply to the above, the best available records show that Appleton won a game from Oshkosh in 1903, the only victory since 1900, although there was 13 games played in the 21 years. The 1903 game ended 12 to 0 for Appleton. There were four tie games, including the one last year, which ended 0 to 0.

Appleton got its worst beating in 1916 when the Sawdust City team with Arle Mucks as its star, trampled over the Appleton players to the tune of 108 to 0.

HAD GOOD TEAMS
Rather poor showing for Appleton against its southern neighbor but that doesn't mean that Appleton had poor football teams all through the last quarter of a century.

Will Coach Arthur Denney's football machine turn the tables on the visitors when they come here for the annual clash Saturday on Lawrence field?

From the fait that Oshkosh has been traveling this season, Oshkosh is hoped to lose but one never can tell. Oshkosh won its first game with Mayville and last week's game at Fond du Lac, otherwise it suffered defeat throughout the year.

Oshkosh is putting a lot of extra practice this week in preparation for the coming tilt. Coach Denney is leaving no stone unturned to make certain that his men will give the Oshkoshers the treatment that is due an ancient rival.

SCRIMMAGE WITH LAWRENCE
Light practice constituted Monday's work. Tuesday the first and second team scrimmaged and on Wednesday the Blue and Orange pigskin chasers invaded Lawrence field and scrimmaged with the Lawrence team. Lawrence had the high school lads on the offensive throughout but three regulars were missing from the high school line. Due to the con-

RICHARDS SCOFFS AT 'PRO' CHARGES

Madison, Wis. — The Illinois-Wisconsin feud was stirred up again on Tuesday when rumors drifted into the Badger grid camp from Beloit that Illinois officials were trying to have affidavits filed charging Capt. Rollie Williams with professionalism. According to Beloit information, Director Huff of Illinois has made an investigation there and will attempt to have Williams barred from Big Ten play on the ground that he played against the Beloit Fairies in 1920.

"Williams is clear," said Coach Richards. "Williams was not in school at the time that game was played. Although he had been at school early in the fall, he was out at the time. If Illinois wants to stir up that charge again, yet them go to it. We are not in danger as far as I can see."

ASHLAND-CO BECOMES CATTLE EXPORT CENTER

Ashland — Ashland-co has ceased to be an importer of grade dairy cattle and has become an exporter. Of course there will be a lot of purebreds purchased and brought to this county, but the day of importing grade herds has passed, according to stock experts. The first carload of grade dairy cattle from Ashland was shipped Wednesday. It consisted of grade guernseys from the vicinity of Ashland. They were purchased by Minnesota farmers.

CHAPTER II

Guided by Quintana's directions, the three had made a wide detour to the east, steering by compass for the cross-roads beyond Star Pond.

In a dense growth of cedars, on a little ridge traversing wet land, Quintana halted to listen.

Sard and Sanchez, supposing him to be at their heels, continued on, pushing their way blindly through the cedars, clinging to the hard ridge in terror of sink-holes. But their progress was very slow, and they were still in sight, fighting a painful path amid the evergreens, when Quintana suddenly squatted close to the moist earth behind a juniper bush.

At first, except for the thrashing of Sard and Sanchez through the massed obstructions ahead, there was not a sound in the woods.

But, presently, came a soft, swift rhythm like the pace of a forest creature in haste—a discreetly hurrying tread which was more a series of light earth-shocks than sound.

Quintana, kneeling on one knee, lifted his pistol. He already felt the slight vibration of the ground on the hard ridge. The cedars were moving just beyond him now. He waited until, through the parted foliage, a face appeared.

The loud report of his pistol struck Sard with the horror of paralysis. Sanchez faced about with one spring, snarling, a weapon in either hand.

In the terrible silence they could hear something heavy floundering in the bushes, choking, moaning, thudding on the ground.

Sanchez began to creep back; Sard, more dead than alive, crawled at his heels. Presently they saw Quintana, waist deep in juniper, looking down at something.

And when they drew closer they saw Georgiades lying on his back under a cedar, the whole front of his shirt from chest to belly a sopping mess of blood.

There seemed no need of explanation. The dead Greek lay there where he had not been expected and his two pistols lay beside him where they had fallen.

Sanchez looked stealthily at Quintana, who said softly:

"Bien sure . . . In his left side pocket, I believe."

Sanchez laid a cool hand on the dead man's heart; then, satisfied, rummaged until he found Georgiades' share of the loot.

Sard, hurriedly displaying a pair of clean but shaky hands, made the division.

When the three men had silently pocketed what was allotted to each, Quintana pushed curiously at the dead man with the toe of his shoe.

"Peste!" he remarked. "I had place, for security, a ver' large diamond in my pistol barrel. Now it is within the interior of this gentleman. . . ." He turned to Sanchez: "I sell him to you. One sapphire. Yes?"

Sanchez shook his head with a slight sneer: "We wait—if you want your diamond, mon capitaine."

Quintana hesitated, then made a grimace and shook his head.

"No," he said, "he has swallow. Let him digest. Allons! March!"

But after they had gone one or two hundred yards, perhaps—Sanchez stopped.

"Well?" inquired Quintana. Then with a sneer: "I now recollect that once you have been a butcher in Madrid. . . . Suit your tas'e, I am Sanchez."

Sard flared at Sanchez out of sickened eyes.

"You keep away from me until you've washed yourself," he burst out, revolted. "Don't you come near me till you're clean!"

Quintana laughed and seated himself. Sanchez, with a hang-dog glance at him, turned and sneaked back on the trail they had traversed. Before he was out of sight Sard saw him fish out a Spanish knife from his hip pocket and unclasp it.

Sanchez made no effort to find them. They had been gone half an hour before he had finished the business that had turned him back.

As he stood there, examining his clothing, and washing what he could of the ominous stains from sleeve and shoe, very far away to the north he heard a curious noise—a far, faint sound such as he never before had heard.

If it were a voice of any sort there was nothing human about it. . . . Probably some sort of unknown bird. . . . Perhaps a bird of prey. . . . That was natural, considering the attraction that Georgiades would have for such creatures. . . . If it were a bird, it must be a large one, he thought. . . . Because there was a certain volume to the cry. . . . Some unknown beast of the forest. . . .

Sanchez was suddenly afraid. Scarcely knowing what he was doing he began to run along the edge of the bog.

He was tired, or thought he was, but the alarming sounds were filling his ears now; the entire forest seemed full of them, echoing in all directions, coming upon him from everywhere, so that he knew not in which direction to run.

The next instant he felt headlong over a ledge, struck water, felt himself whirled around in the icy, rushing current, rolled over, tumbled through rapids, blinded, deafened, choked, swept helplessly in a vast green wall of water toward something that thundered in his brain an instant, then dashed it into roaring chaos.

Half a mile down the turbulent outlet of Star Pond—where a great sheet of green water pours thirty feet into the tossing foam below—and spinning, dipping, diving, bobbing up like a lost log after the drive, the body of Senor Sanchez danced all alone in the wilderness, spilling from soggy pockets diamonds, sapphires, rubies, emeralds, into crystal caves where only the shadows of slim trout stirred.

Very far away to the eastward Quintana stood listening, clutching Sard by one sleeve to silence him.

Presently he said: "My friend, somebody is hunting with houn's in this forest."

"Don't leave me!" gasped the terrified diamond broker. "I don't know where to go—"

Quintana faced him abruptly—with a terrifying smile and glimmer of white teeth—and shoved a pistol into the fold of fat beneath Sard's double chin:

"You hear those dogs? Yes? Ver' well! I also. Run, now. I say to you run ver' damn quick. He! Houp! Allez vous en! Beat eet!"

He struck Sard a stinging blow on his fleshy ear with the pistol barrel, and Sard gave a muffled shriek which was more like the squeak of a frightened animal.

"My God, Quintana—" he sobbed. Then Quintana's eyes blazed murder; and Sard turned and ran lumbering through the thicket like a stampeeded ox, crashing on and amid withered brake, white birch scrub and briar, not knowing whether he was headed, crazed with terror.

Sard could not run very far. He could scarcely stand when he pulled up and clung to the trunk of a tree.

More dead than alive he embraced the tree, gulping horribly for air, every fat-incrusted organ laboring, his senses swimming.

And now, directly ahead, he saw clear gray sky low through the trees. The wood's edge!

He began to run.

As he emerged from the edge of the woods, waist-deep in brush and weeds, wide before his bloodshot eyes spread Star Pond.

Even in his half-stupefied brain there was memory enough left for recognition.

He remembered the lake. His gaze traveled to the westward; and he saw Clinch's Dump standing below, stark, silent, the door swinging open in the wind.

And after a long while he ventured to waddle nearer, sinking through brush and frosted weed, creeping behind boulders, edging always closer and closer to that silent house where nothing moved except the wind-blown door.

And now, at last, he set a furtive foot upon the threshold, tiptoed in, peered here and there, sidled to the dining-room, peered in.

When, at length, Emanuel Sard discovered that Clinch's Dump was tenantless, he made straight for the pantry. Here was cheese, crackers, an apple pie, half a dozen bottles of home-brewed beer.

He loaded his arms with all they could carry, stole through the dance-hall out to the veranda, which overlooked the lake.

And here Sard slaked his raging thirst and satiated the gnawing appetite of the obese, than which there is no crueler torment to an inert liver and distended paunch.

Munching, guzzling, watching, Sard satiated just within the veranda doorway, anxiously considering his chances.

In all that panorama of forest, swale, and water the only thing that had alarmed him at all by moving was something in the water. When first he noticed it he almost swooned, for he took it to be a swimming dog. In his agitation he had risen to his feet, and then the swimming creature almost frightened Sard out of his senses, for it tilted suddenly and went down with a report like the crack of a pistol.

He dimly remembered hearing that beavers behaved that way.

Watching the water he saw the thing out there in the lake again, swimming in erratic circles, its big, dog-like head well out of the water. It certainly was no dog. A beaver, maybe. Whatever it was, Sard didn't care any longer.

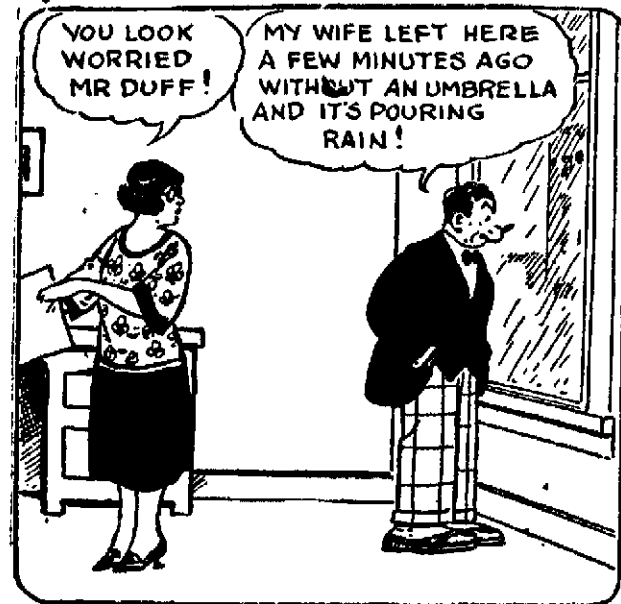

Shivering, Sard filled his mouth with apple-pie and cheese and pulled the cork from another bottle of home-brewed beer.

H. S. PATRIOTIC PAGEANT LEAVES DEEP IMPRESSION

"To Arms For Liberty" Is Presented Twice By Pupils At Chapel

When "To Arms for Liberty" was presented by the high school chorus at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Thursday morning and the curtains had been drawn at the close, there was a moment of silent tribute to the United States and to the students who had presented it. Thunderous applause then burst forth. Every part of the pageant, which brings home closely on the eve of Armistic day what America meant to the other nations in the war, was acted or played with a deep understanding of patriotism. No American citizen could listen to the patriotic music of many nations and hear their pleas for American assistance without coming away, proud of his country and a better citizen.

Both the high school chorus and the high school orchestra made their formal bows to the public in the pageant and they bowed very creditably. Because of the lack of proper sound boards in the chapel, the music of the pageant did not come out with its full force into the auditorium, however, but that was no fault of the musicians. The work of the girls who took the part of the different countries was line perfect and each one embodied a great deal of the personality of the nation which she represented into her lines.

The costuming effects of the various nations were well done and made the stage most attractive. The procession of the nations as they went into the World War for the cause of liberty took place at the front of the stage while the chorus and orchestra were in the portion back of the curtain. The pageant was presented to the college students at 9 o'clock and again to the high school students and Appleton people at 10:15. At the first performance, the auditorium was completely filled with a college and conservatory audience. At the second performance a large number of townspeople were with the high school students.

Prof. Earl L. Baker had charge of the musical direction. Miss Ruth McKenna did the coaching for the dramatic parts and the teachers' class from Lawrence conservatory had charge of the costuming and stage furnishings.

FORUM SPEAKER IS IN GREAT DEMAND

Bishop Mitchell Of St. Paul Will Tell What He Likes In Other Churches

Dr. Charles Bayard Mitchell, bishop of the St. Paul area of the Methodist church will tell Appleton people what he likes about the other churches in his address before the People's Forum in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening. Dr. Mitchell is one of the most fluent speakers in the northwest with a broad conception of churches and their work. He is in great demand as a speaker. He has talked before many of the most famous platforms in the country.

Miss Maud Harwood, well known local soloist, will be presented in the musical program which begins at 7:30.

The collection at the first Forum was far from sufficient to meet expenses. Officers of the Forum are hopeful that contributions will be more numerous and larger Sunday night.

PLAN QUICK DRIVE FOR SMYRNA CAUSE

At the Y. M. C. A. Friday noon a bunch will be given by Appleton Y. M. C. A. to perfect plans for an immediate drive in the county for money for the Smyrna emergency. The Rev. J. Clarke D. D. of Pennsylvania, and Rev. Mason of Illinois state workers will be the principal speakers.

The plan is to get all the pastors in the county to cooperate in putting on the drive and in asking the members of the various churches to contribute liberally to the emergency fund on Sunday, Nov. 26.

ADANAC QUARTET IN GOOD PROGRAM

Crowd Is Disappointing At Community Artist Series Entertainment

The only disappointment about the Adanac quartet, the third number of Community Artist and Lecture series, was the crowd. The attendance was far below expectations.

The Adanac quartet is made up of four men whose voices harmonize beautifully. Their ensemble singing was excellent but the members did not score as well as soloists. With the exception of H. Ruthven McDonald, the basso, the articulation was not clear and their stage appearance was hardly natural.

In quartet numbers, however, they were unsurpassed by any group of male singers heard here in a long time. Their rendition of "What From Vengeance" with which they closed their program was excellent and received tremendous applause. They also did very well in "Annie Laurie" and in "Love's Old Sweet Song," which was an encore number. McDonald presented a number of musical monologues in a pleasing manner.

MR. SCHNEIDER ELECTED

As Mr. Schneider, the successful candidate for congress for the Ninth district aptly says in commenting on the result, "the people rule." He is quite right, but it does not always follow that the people rule wisely or intelligently. In 1920 the people gave Warren Harding the greatest majority a president ever received, and put the Republican party into power with an avalanche of votes. It was the voice of the people and the people rule. In the short space of two years, however, the people decided that their judgment in 1920 was bad, and we find them on Tuesday giving evidence throughout the country of a desire to undo their mistake. The people in the election of 1920 had been worked up to a frenzy of prejudice and hostility toward the Wilson administration. Their judgment was warped and did not prove to be a safe national guide. The people do rule in America, but they do not always rule sagaciously. In the long run they do, but frequently they go off on a tangent and commit substantial errors before they get back to solid ground.

We think this is what happened in the Ninth congressional district Tuesday. We do not believe the people of this district have chosen wisely and intelligently. The election was determined on feeling and blind resentment more than anything else. Mr. La Follette succeeded in capitalizing this feeling to his own account and it flocked to the polls and voted the ticket straight regardless of who was on the ticket or what the candidates represented. Their fitness or qualifications had nothing whatever to do with the vote. The blindness of this following is impressively demonstrated by the astonishing fact that a man in the jail of Brown county, charged with embezzlement of public funds received more than 3,000 votes. The straight vote was of course what beat Judge Graass, but if this is the standard of straight voting, if this is the length to which straight voting is willing to go in submission to unscrupulous leadership, it can hardly be argued that it was an election in which either high civic standards or intelligent discrimination prevailed.

The loss of this election does not fall primarily upon Judge Graass. It falls upon the people of this district. They may not realize this today, but the time will come when they will. The people have rejected not merely Henry Graass; they have rejected the Americanism, the sterling citizenship, the unselfish and capable public service, the christian and ethical principles, the broad humanitarianism, the high conception of our institutions and of social justice, typified by Henry Graass. It is inconceivable that a man of his record, integrity and ability, a man of his wholesome and intense love of country, should be rejected. But we have to face facts as they are, and accept the verdict of popular rule. Just what the people expect to gain through their choice is not clear, just what Mr. Schneider can do for them is not clear. The program of the ticket that was successful is quite shrouded in mystery, but we shall have to make the best of it whatever it is. Only the future can tell what the consequences will be, but we may be sure that they will be disclosed in time and that an accounting will have to be made. If the accounting is favorable well and good, but if it proves to be the contrary then we shall have another reaction and popular revulsion. If a mistake has been made it will be the people who pay for it, and it will be the people who have made this choice that will pay the heaviest.

There is no good gained by taking a gloomy view of the situation. Those who made the fight for Judge Graass made a clean and in every way creditable fight. Judge Graass himself conducted the most notable campaign ever witnessed in a Wisconsin congressional district. He has nothing to be ashamed of and everything to be proud of, so far as his acts and speech are concerned. He also has reason to be proud of the fact that so many thousands of men and women stood loyally by him in the midst of this social and political upheaval. His campaign was an educational baptism in Americanism that this district sorely needed. It may seem that he sowed on barren ground, but we do not think he did. The effects of his campaign will be felt for many years to come. From his personal standpoint it was perhaps a mistake for him to enter the race, but his willingness to make the sacrifice, and few people realize the extent of that sacrifice, was public service of the highest order. Some day the people will see this, too.

There are many thousands of citizens who are grievously disappointed by the result of the election, and it must be admitted that there is ground for depression. We are not to expect a marked accretion of investment in Wisconsin enterprises, of industrial development, of commercial progress, for some time to come. The wave of hostility to men of affairs, to business and industry at large, to people and things in general, will have to run its course. When it will subside no one can say, and what it will do or undo while it is in the saddle, no one can say. Certainly, however, it is not a time to give up in despair. Ultimately we know that sanity as well as justice will prevail. There is no occasion for illfeeling, for that never gets those who bear it very far. Whatever those in power in the state of Wisconsin undertake to do for Wisconsin's advancement must be supported in good faith. Whatever is undertaken that is bad must be resisted, though peacefully and goodnaturedly. So far as Mr. Schneider is concerned, he will be judged entirely by his record at Washington, and by his activities and service within the district.

BACK TO NORMALCY

The predicted revolt against the administration in the congressional and state elections fully materialized. Out of a vote of 25,000,000 cast for the Republican and Democratic candidates for president in 1920 Mr. Harding received 16,000,000, or a popular plurality of over 7,000,000, by far the greatest ever given a candidate for president. An overwhelmingly Republican congress was elected, the house in the December session of 1921 standing 301 Republicans to 131 Democrats. The senate was also substantially Republican.

While the results of Tuesday's election are still incomplete, they show that the house will be relatively close. For a time the Democrats were in the lead in a number of the states the administration's candidates for senator were decisively beaten. Probably the most notable results were those in Massachusetts, Michigan and Indiana. Out of approximately 1,000,000 votes cast in Massachusetts, Mr. Lodge squeezed through with a plurality of 1934. Mr. Lodge is the administration's spokesman in congress and represents a rock-ribbed Republican state, yet he came within a handful of votes of being repudiated. While his defeat was greatly to be hoped for, as one of the most unscrupulous politicians that ever compromised this nation, the result nevertheless is a crushing blow to the administration's foreign policy and a high personal tribute to former President Wilson.

In Michigan the good judgment of the electors was reflected in the choice of Woodbridge N. Ferris as senator, a man of much larger ability and truer representative of the people than Senator Townsend, whom he defeated for reelection. This is the first time Michigan has elected a Democratic senator in half a century, and there can be little doubt that Mr. Townsend's vote to seat Senator Newberry had much to do with the outcome. Mr. Ferris as governor gave Michigan one of the best administrations in its history and that state is to be congratulated on his election to the senate.

A genuine surprise is the defeat of former Senator Beveridge by Governor Ralston, Democrat, in Indiana. Indiana like New York has for generations been regarded as one of the pivotal states in the Union and it is significant that the Democrats carried both these states, electing their candidates for governor and senator in the latter. The administration's loss of Senator Kellogg in Minnesota is offset by the defeat of Mr. Hitchcock in Nebraska, and there are other changes which neutralize each other, but taking the election as a whole it reflects pronounced dissatisfaction with the Harding administration.

We do not believe the country will suffer from this reaction. On the contrary, we think it will benefit from it. The Republicans in 1920 selected a weak though well-meaning candidate for president. Faced as the country was by the heavy and complicated problems left by the war, it was no time for such a selection. The Republican party imagined that it could thrive politically on a so-called "business" administration. Its conception of this kind of an administration was to go back to the period of twenty years ago. It enacted a tariff worse than the Payne-Aldrich tariff and it made a frank alliance with special-favor-seeking interests. Reactionary politicians were completely in control and they played the only kind of game they knew how to play to bring back artificial prosperity. There has been an almost total absence of aggressive and constructive leadership in the White house. An incompetent congress blundered from beginning to end. A foreign policy of isolation has brought wide condemnation. The results in Tuesday's election are the natural sequence. It is a long ways from a jump from 7,000,000 majority back to normalcy, but it is being rapidly accomplished.

THE SECOND GRAND BOIL

In offering a few hints the other day on "How Not to Handle Boils" I formulated two important rules for those who do not yearn to handle a line of boils. The first rule was: Never touch a boil. The second rule was: Never touch anything that has touched a boil. These are very simple rules for cleanly, intelligent persons who can and do discipline themselves and control their inquisitive fingers.

To the two rules of management of boils already laid down, I would add another: Never poultice a boil or any lesion that resembles a boil. This third rule will seem deliberately aimed at grandmas. Be it so. My reputation for disrespecting age is already made and I have nothing more to lose. He who poultices a boil nurses and nourishes trouble. There could be nothing more agreeable to the ordinary pusproducing germs (Staphylococcus pyogenes aureus et alii) than a nice moist warm flaxseed meal poultice. The doctors of the era before the discovery of the cause of blood poisoning favored poulticing because poultices produced "laudable pus"—they imagined then, as unenlightened folk do now, that it was good for such things to fester copiously and run, to carry corruption and humor out of the system, you know.

Now children, this corruption and humor business is a sad mistake. No more corruption or humor comes out of the most prodigious boil than comes out of your finger when you cut it. Pus examined chemically and microscopically proves to be nothing but the dead and dying phagocytes or soldier cells of the blood, together with countless herds of living and dead pus germs. So, you see, if you are not a superstitious and totally amphybious person, that there is nothing to be "drawn" out of a boil by a poultice, even if a poultice would draw anything out.

Use the poultice as Charlie Chaplin would use custard pies, but be careful and don't get one on your boil.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Acetophenetidine

Please tell me what acetophenetidine is and also what its effect is on the system when used (for headache) over a prolonged period, in five grain doses.—(C. W. P.)

Answer—This is a chemical name for one of the coal tar pain killers commonly known as phenacetin. The effect is the same as that of acetaminol, antipyrin, aspirin, and others of that group, namely impairment of the heart, breaking down of the blood corpuscles, and in some cases mental and physical deterioration. Now and then a sudden death is due to poisoning by one of these much abused drugs.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

CONFINING LABORS OF COURT REQUIRE YOUNG VIGOROUS MEN

Retirement of Justice Day from the Supreme Court bench, and the likelihood that Justice Pitney will never be able to resume his duties there, has resulted in a general editorial discussion of the necessity of having youthful and extremely vigorous men sitting in the highest court. It is recalled that the labor of the court constantly is increasing, and that today the work is not only extremely confining but most "exacting." There can be no relief from this condition it is acknowledged. There also is discussion of the suggestion that President Harding will name at least one Democrat to the vacancy existing or those to exist. In this connection there are many editors who quietly point out that politics has no place in court and that therefore, whether a nominee is a Republican or a Democrat, does not matter so much as do his qualifications for the work.

Youth "must be served" in this appointment at least, insists the Boston GLOBE, in referring to the great work for Harvard of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, named President of that institution at the age of 35. His long career proves the wisdom there displayed and this leads the GLOBE to say that "the President of the United States who would make the best imaginable appointment to the Supreme Court must do what Harvard did when it selected Dr. Eliot. The perfect judicial material is decidedly on the sunny side of fifty." Because "when Justice Clarke, a Democrat, resigned his successor was a Republican, Justice Sutherland," the Buffalo TIMES suggests, "it would be both a just and grateful action on the part of President Harding to appoint a Democrat in Justice Day's place." This, naturally, directs attention to the campaign being made on behalf of the naming of Senator Shields and the Louisville POST holds that "the name of a Democrat, True, belongs to the party, but his record is one of consistent opposition to a Democratic President and a Democratic administration," while the Hoboken HUDSON OBSERVER holds that if Shields is to be elevated to "make room" for another Republican in the Senate it must not happen because "there is no politics in the Supreme Court and it is unpleasant to think that political considerations are given undue weight in appointment. The place fairly belongs to a Democrat, but surely one can be found to whose appointment no suspicion would attach."

The importance of selecting for Federal Court appointments young and vigorous individuals is emphasized by the Philadelphia PUBLIC LEDGER and a number of other newspapers which cite statistics to show how the work is increasing. The Memphis NEWS SCIMITAR emphasizes and reflects this view by calling that "in the younger years of the republic the justices of the Supreme Court had some leisure and could stand upon their dignity. As time went on, and the latitude of the Federal Court was extended, the work became heavier until today it is a grind which older lawyers, who feel that they have earned the right to enjoy a few years of ease, are not eager to assume." So far as the question of the political views of whoever shall be named is concerned the Utica OBSERVER DISPATCH is another of the group which considers them unimportant because "the Supreme Court is a place in which political affiliation should have no place. Political judges are of the past, the public being convinced that men are wanted on the bench who are qualified and who are so completely fair that they will be guided by the law as they find it and will not be swayed by political prejudices or preferences." Accepting that a Democrat is to be named the Springfield REPUBLICAN feels that "President Harding's election of a Democrat for the Supreme Court will surely be a conservative one. The court will become under this administration more of a bulwark of property interests and the existing order than it has been before in a generation." Whether the appointment of "conservatives is a wise policy, whether it is not better to let the body of law be reinterpreted and refashioned in accordance with the economic needs of this critical period cannot be determined now."

"Liberalism on the bench has been urgently demanded for many quarters of influential opinion in the United States and recent decisions of the court have emphasized the fact that the liberal school of legal thought is less adequately represented in the Supreme Court today than it has been in the past."

The great responsibility that thus has been thrown on the President by this resignation, and others believed impending, leads the Steubenville HERALD STAR to assert that "President Harding promises to have the responsibility of selecting more members of the Supreme Court than any other President except Washington." The San Antonio EXPRESS considers that John W. Davis of West Virginia is an ideal person to suggest for the bench in succession to Justice Day because "there is a striking parallel in this combination of lawyer and diplomat." Another suggestion that of Senator Oscar Underwood, if a Democrat is to be named at this time, leads the Washington STAR to reply to the criticism that he has had small time for his profession since entering Congress from Alabama," by recalling that similar criticism was uttered when President Cleveland was considering naming, then, Secretary of the Interior Lamar for the bench, and that this view was also entertained by Lamar himself.

"But he yielded his preference," the STAR continues, and in time became much enamored of his new duties. He likewise became as popular in judicial circles as he had been in political circles and his most intimate friend in his new association was Mr. Justice Harlan, like himself a transplant from the political field, but now developed into one of the soundest and profoundest judges of the day." With all of this admitted the Boston HERALD, insists that "the assumption that the court is a bi-partisan body is wholly at variance with all traditions and precedent. There are really no party lines in the Supreme Court and there should be none. The best man, regardless of all other considerations should be selected. That Mr. Harding needs to go out of his way to pick out a Democrat seems to us wholly supererogatory." The Uniontown HERALD, however, insists that "you can rest assured that President Harding's selection will be a good one. He has a happy faculty of picking the right man for the right place."

The Cleveland PLAIN DEALER expresses regret over the retirement of Justice Day recalling that he "has devoted practically his entire life to public service." The fact that Day was a Roosevelt appointee leads the Pittsburgh PRESS to argue that his successor must be a progressive inasmuch as "there are powerful private groups which selfishly hope he"—(President Harding)—"will employ his power to retain or install on the Supreme Bench a majority of men swayed by reactionary prejudices and ideals and determined to continue the law more in the interests of property than humanity. The President cannot be unaware of the significance of the appointments, or of the fact that while theoretically the court merely interprets and does not legislate, its power is so enormous that it could nullify progressive legislation of the highest consequence if its personnel were deficient in social conscience. It does not matter whether the new justice is a Republican or a Democrat so long as he is progressively minded. His qualifications in that regard will be closely scrutinized."

WANTS FRENCH POLICY

CHANGED

Paris—Gabriel Boissy, writing in the PROGRESSIVE CIVIQUE, gives an account of an interview with Herr Hans Dill which throws new light on Germany's feelings toward France. He says:

"One of the deputies of the Bavarian Landtag, Herr Dill, recently explained very clearly to me the light which is going on in German internal politics at our expense."

"Majority and independent socialists have just united into one party. Their eloquence is never at a standstill on this familiar subject."

"The policy of France towards Germany has not been what it should."

"France said during the war that she was fighting in the name of democracy against imperialism and militarism. But scarcely was she victorious than she betrayed this cause and abandoned the Germans who have fought and are still fighting against implacable adversaries, which are also your adversaries."

"You refused the offer made by the German workmen to reconstruct your devastated regions. In this way you allowed our adversaries to exploit the reparations problem for political reasons."

"The French government, I answered, 'probably wanted to avoid negotiating with any but the regular government. The execution of the Versailles Treaty must be carried on legally.'"

"Herr Dill answered in a furious tone: 'Are not they doing now with a private group, Stinnes and Co. just what they refuse to do with us?'"

"But would the workmen have had the materials?" I asked.

"Of course the workmen have their glides which provide them with everything."

"It is the behavior of the French government which has taken from us all means of action, which has delivered us up to the capitalist and junkers. Thus you have caused the hatred of the workmen against France. You us have prevented them from making a real German Republic."

"This hatred that you speak of, has then socialist rather than nationalist causes?"

"Certainly, these reasons and also that the capitalists have been thus able to persuade the masses that France's exigencies threatened Germany with bankruptcy."

"In spite of this do your working classes believe that they ought to make reparations?"

"Of course, they have believed this since the first day. If another method had been used we should have astonished you. The devastated regions of France would today be a fertile flourishing towns and a fertile vegetation. You did not understand how to help."

"The German working men would have been with you if you had consented to treat us as Lloyd George wanted as grown-up people instead of little boys who are punished at every occasion. I can only repeat, you have allowed your real enemies to prepare the Restoration. By working with Stinnes you assassinate Wirth, and Wirth is a really honest fellow."

"All the Germans, no matter to what party they belong, seem to esteem Wirth. And yet you fear a Restoration?"

"No, in spite of everything, our working classes would not tolerate it as they would not tolerate another war."

You never wore a belted Overcoat?

It's usually the man of girth who shies at being girthed.

"That style is all right for a roadster—but I'm a limousine," said a customer lately.

We then brought out one of our Campus Togs belted coats which was designed purposely for portly men—

He tried it on—you should have seen the expression on his face—and you should have heard the nice compliment his wife paid us next day.

Gloom Slows Workmen

The eight-hour day, established throughout Germany early in the revolution, is attacked by Dr. O. Hoffmann, German business writer. He says that the eight-hour day over there has reduced the average worker's output 15 per cent. So, concludes Hoffmann, "hang goes the theory that as much work can be done in eight hours as in nine or ten."

Hoffmann is wrong. German productivity has been decreased, not by the eight-hour day, but by the gloom of defeat and the knowledge that to work harder merely means more money for indemnity. That is human nature.

National City Bank's market letter makes this comment on the claim by Hoffmann, German economist, that German industrial productivity has dropped 15 per cent under the eight-hour day:

"These figures have a curious coincidence, for they are exactly the figures for the annual (reparations) payments fixed by the London ultimatum of May 1, 1921."

Is it a case of premeditated coincidence, as well as a subconscious reluctance to pay up?

The tired business man is real, not a myth, says Dr. Edward H. Oschner of Chicago, discussing "chronic intoxication."

"The tired business man," originally an expression of ridicule, steadily becomes more actual. What makes him tired? Answer: Heavy lunches, not enough exercise, stuffy air in badly ventilated offices, also lungs full of tobacco smoke-carbon. The remedy is obvious.

Uncle Sam's income drops—steadily.

ly, alarmingly. Tax money received during September totaled only about $354,000,000, against $631,000,000 in September a year ago.

The old line, "Give until it hurts," should be changed to "Save until it hurts," and pasted in every congressman's hat.

More bond issues and a mounting of national debt are inevitable unless economy is the first aim of Washington.

Philadelphia, barring unexpected rescue, will tear down two historic houses, famed as homes of Ben Franklin and Edgar Allan Poe. Some think "The Raven" was written in the Poe house. The other dwelling is where Poor Richard lived when he arrived from Boston.

So it goes all over the country, little respect for historical relics, especially old buildings. Ford has the typically American idea—that to-day and tomorrow are the really important, yesterday is gone and might as well be forgotten.

Luckily, the destroyers cannot tear down "The Raven" or Ben Franklin's homely philosophy.

Explorers bring word that girls on Neu-Pommern Island, in the South Pacific, are confined in cages when three years old and kept there until marriage. The cages are indoors.

Woman's fight through the cages has been to get out of her cage. Most of the bars are torn down now. In America, if the law of reaction holds true, men eventually may have their turn at being caged. The caging process is well under way. Volstead contributed a few bars.

A. An accredited secondary school is a school which is equipped to prepare students for colleges requiring at least 14 units for unconditional admission and which has been investigated or approved for this purpose by one of the following agencies: A state officer of education, a university or college inspector or committee of an accrediting association. Except in the case of certain of the southern states, whose high school courses are based upon 7 years of elementary training, it is understood that these 14 units represent secondary work above the standard eight-grade elementary school course. It is assumed that the curriculum of an accredited school represents four years of 36 or more weeks each; that at least three teachers give their whole time to high school work; and that the school keeps up an adequate library and laboratory equipment.

KAUKAUNA NEWS

Kaukauna RepresentativeSHIFT PLAYERS FOR
GRID BATTLE TODAYKaukauna High School Team
Tackles Fond Du Lac
This Afternoon

Kaukauna — There were some changes in the lineup of the high school football team as it faced Fond du Lac at 2:30 Thursday afternoon on the local grid park. Elmer, the regular fullback, has been shifted to quarterback and probably will pilot the team during the entire game. Amay, Taylor, tackle, showed up well in the fullback position and was expected to start the fracas there. A few changes were to have been made in the line.

The battle with Fond du Lac was to have been played Saturday, Armistice day, but due to the homecoming at the university, Coach Waterpelt found it would be hard to secure good officials. A large crowd of high school students, who have season tickets, was expected to attend. It has not been decided whether another game will be played this year. The question probably will be settled in a few days.

Social Items

Kaukauna — The regular meeting of the Eta Beta Phi club will be held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Marie Rademacher. The evening will be spent in social entertainment.

A stag party was held Tuesday evening at the home of Martin Heindel, town of Vandenberg. Two tables of schafkopf were in play.

Memorial services for deceased members of Holy Cross court No. 399 Catholic Order of Foresters will be held on Sunday. Members of the Catholic Order of Foresters will approach Holy communion at 8 o'clock Sunday morning in Holy Cross church. They will meet at 7:30 in Forester hall and will attend the services in a body.

A double spoon party was held in north side Forester hall Tuesday evening following the regular meeting of St. Ann court, No. 258, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Peter Siebers, Sr., and for Miss Gertrude Vanderheiden who is to be married soon to Roman Foege. Schafkopf and hearts were played and prizes at the former were won by Mrs. Frank Graf and Mrs. C. J. Faust. Honors at hearts were awarded to Mrs. Anton Siebers and Mrs. Theresa Vande Hey. Fifty-one ladies were present. Luncheon was served following the card party.

Mrs. Charles Ristau won first prize at schafkopf at the semi-monthly meeting of the North Side Schafkopf club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ulrich. Mrs. Clem Hilkenberg won second prize and the hostess received consolation prize. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. C. J. Faust.

LEGION TEAM WILL PLAY HEAVY SQUAD

Kaukauna — Negotiations by Edward Rennieke, manager of the American Legion football team, have been completed with the manager of the Oconto city team for a tilt on the local gridiron Sunday afternoon. Kaukauna's third season of amateur football is nearly ended, only two or three games remaining to be played. According to dope sent here by the Oconto manager, the up-state team is as strong as any which will be here this year and a good game is expected. The legion players are out to stretch their record of no defeats over a period of two seasons. They have been defeated only three times since the organization of the team in 1920. This year a number of new recruits have joined the squad, assuring the city of a strong team for a period of several years.

The game Sunday will begin at 2:30. The Oconto manager has sent the names of his men and they are listed as weighing between 170 to 195 pounds each.

TOWNSHIP FEUD
FLARES UP WITH
STOPPING OF WELL

Malicious Act Is Committed After Well Is Completed At District No. 6

Oneida — Residents of joint school District No. 6, towns of Oneida, Freedom and Osborn, appear to have renewed their fight of 50 years standing. This became evident when the pipe of a new well which Mr. Kersten of DePere had just finished drilling was filled with screws, bolts, rods and everything of small size that could be detached from the drilling machine. Boards also were split up and the pieces driven into the pipe.

It took Mr. Kersten two days to remove the articles from the pipe, the expense of which was paid by the district. It is not known who the guilty persons were, but the work is believed to have been done by some who still bore malice from the feud over locating the building at the center of the district, which was done this summer.

The chairman of the Oneida delegates, Martin Archibault, who went to New York to see about the Oneida Indian land claims there a few weeks ago, reports the prospects are very encouraging. Mrs. Laura Cornelius Kellogg will meet Mrs. Stillman, the lawyer who was engaged to look up the records, and they will then go to Washington with the report. Raymond Hill and Miss Edith Archibault were married Thursday afternoon of last week in the Episcopal church. The Rev. Mr. Watson performed the ceremony. Henry Oudhoven and the Rev. A. A. Vissers are driving new cars. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Summers Monday.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Kortenhof to Eino Hella of Wabeno, Minn., took place at 9 o'clock Saturday morning Nov. 4. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. B. Mr. and Mrs. Hella left for Minneapolis, Minn., for a short visit and will be at home at 412 Nicoletave, Menasha after Nov. 15.

Husslein performed the ceremony. Miss Helen Luniak, sister of the bridegroom, attended her. George Gosz was best man. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride. Serve Fig Honey Puffs

AFTER a day of ironing, washing or cleaning — you've worked hard enough without making a dessert. Fig Honey Puffs, served with a cheery smile, will please your family far better than a home-made delicacy and a fagged-out Mother. At luncheon or dinner these delicious cookies are an ideal "top-off" — alone or with fruit sauce, custard, jello or ice cream. I SPIED TODAY

The standard of items printed in "I Spied Today," of The Post-Crescent would be vastly improved if contributors would be more definite in their statements. Many contributions to the section are discarded because they neglect to state the time and place of the events which they describe. Merely to say that the event occurred on a street or in a factory is not sufficient. The name of the street or the factory and the time and all other facts which can be ascertained should be stated. The Post-Crescent wants to report all news happenings accurately and is calling on its readers to be its reporters. A ticket good for two admissions to the Elite Theatre are given for each item printed. "The Seventh Day" with Richard Barthelmé will be shown at that playhouse beginning Friday.

SHE BLUSHED

The other night while I was attending a Bazaar I saw a young lady fishing in the ash barrel for a prize. She pulled out her line and found a big package on the end. She found a pair of corset strings.

Dumping of ashes or rubbish on boulevards, or any street within the City of Appleton, is prohibited. All persons are hereby notified to remove any so deposited.

In the event of failure to do so, same will be removed by the Street Department and cost thereof charged to the property.

COLLIDES WITH BUS

While walking down College avenue Sunday evening a Seymour bus was backing out of its parking space. A Buick car going south on College avenue at Appleton-st. bumped into the rear wheel of the bus. No damage was caused.

C. D.

SERVED HIM RIGHT

Wednesday while I was walking along State-st. I saw a drunken man trying to ride a bicycle. He rode along a little way and all at once ran into a telephone pole. He flew over the handle bars of the bicycle and hit his head against a tree knocking him almost unconscious. Some of the men nearby picked him up and took him home.

R. W. W.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE

Last night I spied a touring car going slowly along the street, when suddenly the rear axle slipped nearly out pushing the rear wheel far out from the rest of the car. The wheel did not slip entirely off, however, but ran along the curb. The driver was unaware that anything had happened until the wheel struck a telephone pole and came off, letting the car down gently onto the pavement. The driver then got out, replaced the wheel and then drove on.

WINTER BIRDS HERE

I spied five cedar wax wing birds perched upon a branch of a tree on College-ave. Winter is almost here.

FORDS ALL LOOK ALIKE

The other evening as I was walking down College-ave, I noticed a young girl with bobbed hair standing on the street corner. Just then a Ford car came along with a young fellow in it. The girl hailed him and he stopped a few feet away. She hurried to the car but found, to her dismay a perfect stranger.

"Oh I beg your pardon, I thought you were someone else," she said, and hurried away much embarrassed.

HONESTY IS OUR REWARD

Saturday evening I was entering Pettibone store. I picked up a beautiful purse which belonged to a well dressed lady. I caught up to her and asked if she had lost her purse.

"O Lord," she exclaimed, "I have several hundred dollars in it," and handed me a dime.

HER SLIPPER CAME OFF

I saw a woman crossing Oneida-st. near the Sherman house. Two cars were approaching and the woman, in her effort to get out of the way, started to run. One of her slippers came off and flew about ten feet. Just then a gentleman came to her rescue, picked up her slipper and put it on her foot. She crossed the street without any difficulty but was very much embarrassed.

TOO BIG A HURRY

I saw a woman rapidly walking and turning a corner on College-ave, when she stumbled. Hastening to regain footing, she stepped on her coat, and fell with her hands on the road. She picked herself up and went off laughing to herself.

NO H. C. L. HERE

In the Post-Crescent, Nov. 7th, under Appleton markets, they quote the prices of produce and "I saw" that W. C. Fish is paying producers "25c per bu." for "extra fine comb honey." At that price we should be able to have waffles and honey for breakfast once in a while.

Liver Lazy?

Feel your liver sluggish? Appetite indifferent—digestion poor? Are you always tired going to bed and weary when waking up? The reason? Some lazy livers are often overworked livers; that is they have been made to do more than a fair share of the body's work, with a resultant disordered condition. If you are suffering in this way you should take and you will soon experience a most beneficial change. For over two centuries it has been successfully used by the Dutch people for all liver and kidney troubles, biliousness, and an excess of uric acid in the system. It gives wonderful relief and drives it quickly, by the bowels, out of the system. See the trademark—a "Red Mill" on the package—it's the sign of the genuine article. Get all druggists. Sold on a guarantee.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Voigt's Drug Store can supply you.

INVITE CITY DADS AND DAIRYMEN TO C. OF C. MILK TALK

Corbett Asks Business Men To Take Deep Interest in T. B. Eradication

Mayor Henry Reuter, members of the common council and officials of the municipal health department have been invited by the chamber of commerce to the monthly forum dinner to be held at 6:15 Monday evening in the Sherman house.

An invitation also has been extended to lead dairy men of the county to attend Secretary Hugh G. Corbett announces that the dinner is open to every farmer in the county and those who are interested need not wait for a formal invitation. Reservations for the dinner should be telephoned to the office of the chamber at once.

Eradication of tuberculosis in dairy herds and certification of all milk sold in Appleton as free from the disease are the topics which will be under consideration. Dr. James S. Healy of Madison federal inspector of accredited dairy herds is to speak on "Bottle Milk Through Accredited Herds." His talk will be followed by a government motion picture "Out of the T. B. Cows" which further illustrates the effects of the disease.

We cannot always have business men to our meetings with talks on something that will increase their income," said Mr. Corbett, and I am hoping there will be a liberal representation.

How To Save 1/3 Of Your Soap

Women's Magazine Makes New Discoveries with Green Arrow Laundry Soap

By JANE LEE

(Reprinted by Request)

"I am astounded at the results of the tests which have just been made on GREEN ARROW laundry soap in the laboratory of a large magazine for women.

With only three ounces of GREEN ARROW, a piece about 2x2 1/2 inches, they washed seventeen articles—the majority of them large pieces, like uniforms, petticoats, aprons, bloomers, etc. And at that they reported the tests too heavy—less soap could have been used."

Then they made the suds test to see how much of a given soap must be used to wash moderately soiled clothes. In a two gallon container a measured amount of soap is dissolved in one gallon of warm water. The solution is beaten with an egg beater and the height of the suds measured. After standing five minutes the suds are again measured. This complete process is repeated twice.

Enough soap must be used to give a lasting suds that will fill this two gallon container. And the laboratory discovered that only sixteen one-hundredths of an ounce of GREEN ARROW was needed to give a suds of maximum height! Other laundry soaps they had tested had required two or three times as much!

They state, speaking of GREEN ARROW, "one-half to one-third of what we ordinarily use gives perfectly satisfactory results."

GREEN ARROW being all soap and no filler, contains 3 1/2% to 100% more soap than the ordinary laundry bar the same size, so it saves the home many bars a month.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Lasts pleasant, too—children like it and it is pure and good.

Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Then make a full pint—a family supply, but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and cures, lasting relief. It promotes the inflamed membrane of the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, soothes the phlegm, and soon you are free of the cough. Splendid for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness and bronchitis.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded.

Prove splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell of Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda upon four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days. Within 48 hours the men had coated tongue and foul breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 28 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-months old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

ZONING HEARING TO BE HELD WHEN SMITH COMES

No hearing will be conducted on the proposed zoning ordinance Friday evening, as was first anticipated. It was believed Professor Leonard S. Smith, city planning engineer, would come here from Madison Friday and the ordinance committee believed it would be an advantage if Mr. Smith would personally answer some of the questions that would arise in the hearing. Mr. Smith probably will not be in the city again until Nov. 24. No arrangements have been made for the holding of a hearing.

NEW YORK STARTS CAMP FOR BOYS IN WISCONSIN

New York men have purchased 1,600 acres at Harris lake near Waukesha in the northwestern part of Vilas co. and will establish a large summer recreation camp for boys and girls.

One of the promoters is Warren B. Bullock, a former newspaper man of Appleton and Milwaukee who has owned a private lodge near State Line for several years. It is said the camp will be able to accommodate more young people than any yet erected in that region.
